Tires Bed Of Tandem Burned In Freak Fire

Truck driver for the Mowcrief and Lenora Company out of Houston was uncomfortably shocked this morning at 6:45 when he was hailed by a passing driver and told that the tires and bed of his tandem trailer was afire.

The fire resulted from a blow-out of one of the rear tires on the trailer, which rubbed against the other tire with the friction igniting the tires and later catching the bed afire.

Cameron volunteer Fire Department was called out to the fire, which occurred on Highway 36 near Milano, just the other side of the Arthur Belts home.

They extinguished the fire and approximated that $1,500 worth of damage was done to the truck.

Easter Seal Drive Starts First Week With $457.81 Collected

Funds for the Crippled Children have started rolling in. Richard Williams, treasurer, announced Tuesday morning that already 457.81 has been sent in during the first week of the Easter Seal Campaign, with more coming in daily.

Mrs. R. J. Woodum, Cameron co-chairman, said that if each person receiving seals through the mail will contribute the usual amount of $1.00 the overall sum will be sufficient to meet the needs of our crippled population.

"Actually," she said, "The amount will be sufficient only to help maintain the current programs and to provide for moderate expansion so that those whose needs are most urgent may be served."

"I do hope," she continued, "That those receiving the seals will use them on their letters, Easter cards and greeting cards rather than tossing them in the wastebasket. By using them we indicate that we are conscious of the good works the Easter Seal drive does for our community."

Two special depots for distributing Easter Seals to those overlooked in the drive's mailing have been established at Mrs. Carl Black's, general chairman, office in the Jail and at the First National Bank, where the treasurer, Mr. Williams, is located.

All of those who were missed are urged by the officials of the drive to see one of the above mentioned and use their Easter seals.

"It is only when everyone participated," Mrs. Black stated, "That we can provide the services our crippled children need."

"Needs of Youth" Discussed At PTA; Nominating Committee Named

Four phases of child development were discussed by Dr. Russell in his talk "Needs of our Youth" at the Parent Teachers Association meeting at the school Thursday afternoon.

He pointed out that every child needs love and affection, and that is the parents obligation, to see that this as well as a sense of security is maintained at the child's home. Next mentioned were fun and recreation, which is not only the duty of the parent to fill but also of the teachers, the school as a whole and the community; to see that adequate recreational facilities are provided.

Lastly he spoke of education and emphasized that learning cannot be completed altogether in the school, but a large part of a child's education and learning comes through the home.

There were 75 attentive parents on hand, with Mrs. Charlie Nabours fifth grade class again winning the five dollar bill for having the most parents represented.

During the business portion of the meeting conducted by Albert Horstmann, a nominating committee was appointed to nominate a new slate of officers for next years PTA program.

The committee, composed of Mrs. Harry Haraway, Mrs. Bill Wallace and Ace Alsop, Jr., will present names for election at the next regular meeting of the PTA.

It is hoped that the completion date will coincide with the opening of the pool the later part of May.

Next up for discussion was the drainage and street problem. Needed repairs are being made to every section of town and paving will follow the laying of the sewer lines in the north part of town.

Drainage improvements were tabled for the time being since extra expenses incurred during this year have required more funds than allowed in the city budget. Mayor O. B. Horstmann stated that estimates are being Leo Fuchs, chairman of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce poultry Committee, announced today plans for conducting a broiler contest for the Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club members in Milam County.

In his letter to all Chamber of Commerce members Mr. Fuchs asked anyone who will be a sponsor to return a card which was enclosed by April 10. He said "Everyone in Cameron recognizes the importance of the farmer and farm products in our business economy. The contest gives the business man an opportunity to become acquainted with the young people who will be responsible for the farm income of the future. We believe you will agree that the small amount of time you are required to spend in sponsoring a boy in this contest will be time well spent."

Each 4-H or FFA contestant will have a sponsor and the sponsor will provide a ten dollar entrance fee for each contestant sponsored, with a two-contestant limit per sponsor. This fee will provide for 50 baby chicks, tickets to award a banquet for the sponsor and his contestant for cash prizes to be awarded to poultry show winners.

Regulations specified in the letters provide that each sponsor will meet his contestants at the Courthouse on Tuesday, May 4, at 5 p.m. and present him with 50 chicks, which the C of C will buy and have there for the presentation.

The contestants will then take the chicks and raise them according to standards approved by FFA and 4-H Clubs.

On Saturday, July 17, ten weeks after the opening of the contest, each contestant will choose the best five chickens from his flock and enter them in the poultry show to be held that day.

Chickens will be judged by recognized judges on standard points for broiler shows and six cash prizes and certificates will be awarded.

Each contestant will present his five show chickens to his sponsor and the remainder of the flock will belong to the contestant.

Each sponsor will take his contestant to an award banquet on Saturday, July 17, where the awards will be presented.

City fathers concluded their business on a very harmonious note at their final meeting for this term in the city hall Tuesday night.

First on the agenda was the erection of a $5,000 bathhouse at the city swimming pool. It was unanimously decided that work will begin in the near future on the house, since the ground work and foundation are already completed.

It is hoped that the completion date will coincide with the opening of the pool the later part of May.

Another Milestone in Our Marriage...

Just like you, I had heard how convenient electric dryers are. But when we got our own, I realized what a milestone it was: the end of weather worries... of heavy lifting, carrying, and pinning wet clothes on the line... and an end to wasted time on washday. Our clothes now are softer, fluffier, and smell cleaner! Best of all, I don't need a weatherman to tell me when I can wash. I dial my own sunshine in my electric dryer and dry clothes faster and better than I ever did in the back yard!

Yoe Debate Teams For District Meet Are Announced

Miss Ada Margaret Smith, debate coach, has announced the 1954 Yoe High Debate teams, for the Interscholastic League meet which will be held at Georgetown high school Friday.

Wayne Fisher and Franklin Stewart is the first debate team while the girls first debate team is Lu Wane Asher and Nancy Lawrence.

Alternates for the boys will be Rex McClaren and Billy Newton. Betsy Vogelsang and Dorothy Kelley are alternates for the girls team.

The debaters subject, which is usually one of national importance, is: "Resolved that the President of the United States should be elected by direct vote of the people."

Miss Smith said that both of the first teams have participated in the Baylor Speech Tournament and the Georgetown Speech Clinic. The two teams are also entering the District Debate meet for the second year, with both teams capturing a second place in district competition last year. The girls team, however, was in the finals with another Cameron debate team and was edged out in the finals. Both girls of the first place team were lost through graduation last Spring.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER UNWORRIED OVER HYDROGEN BOMB IF ALL IT'LL DO IS RETURN MAN TO AGRICULTURE

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Little River comes to the defense of his way of life this week, and he may be alone in the job.

Dear editor:

All the talk lately about the dangers of the hydrogen bomb all the worry England is doing, even going to far as to urge the U. S. to stop experimenting and some people even suggesting that the secret of the big bomb ought to be destroyed and the matter hushed up does not disturb me, as I do not believe civilization is going to be destroyed by man's inventiveness, and if it was it would hardly be noticed in most places.

But what burns me up is a statement I read in a paper which blew out of a car which whipped around a curve in the road by my place one day last week. According to this statement, if man cannot control the hydrogen bomb and outlaw war, "he will revert to a primitive agriculture society."

This was supposed to scare everybody into pulling up short and thinking of what the awful results of atom and hydrogen bomb warfare will be, but as far as I'm concerned he got hold of the wrong figure of speech.

Understand, I'm not in favor of destroying civilization, if you know where it's located, and I'm certainly not in favor of another world war, but arguin if we don't do something about it mankind will return to a primitive agricultural society, is makin the alternative too easy. He ought to think up some other reason.

What in the world is wrong with a primitive agricultural society? I've been livin in one for years out here on my Johnson grass farm and I wouldn't swap it for an apartment in Houston or Dallas on any terms. Tryin to tell me if I don't get rid of the hydrogen bomb I'm gonna have to live in the country is like telling a small boy if he doesn't behave you're gonna give him an ice cream cone.

Understand, I didn't have anything to do with the hydrogen bomb, first I ever heard of it was when I read about it in the paper, and it's possible the men who invented it ain't sure what they got on their hands, although I notice they've got sense enough to stand back quite a ways when they get ready to set one off, but if they want to scare me with it, they've got to convince me it'll rub out my primitive agricultural set-up out here.

If you think there's any danger it would, let's get the thing outlawed while the Texas Legislature is still in session.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Candidate Urges Schools Publish Financial Reports

C. T. Johnson said Saturday Texas needs a law requiring publication of school district financial statements as the candidate for lieutenant governor completed a week of campaigning in South Texas.

The 43-year-old Austin business man said that as more state tax money is put into public schools the need increases for giving the "public a clear picture of school costs."

"Such a requirement would help remove all suspicion of misused funds, and that is important since schools generally handle more money than most local business concerns," he said.

Johnson did not refer directly to the Benavides school district in Duval county, but he said allegations of misuse of public school money in South Texas district further emphasized the need for such a law.

SPECIAL NOTICE

We have no desire to hinder anybody in pursuing his pleasure in hunting or fishing as long as it is done in accordance to law and in fairness to other people. If everybody in Milam County would obey the law there would be fish and game enough for everybody.

Hunting and fishing illegally is a serious offense. The penalty upon conviction is a $50 to $100 fine or a jail sentence.

In order to discourage game violations in Milam County, the Milam County Sportsman Club will pay a cash reward of $50.00 to any person who will furnish information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons violating the game laws of Texas in Milam County.

We sincerely hope that we shall have such good cooperation that no one will have to be punished but that violation just will not occur.

Any one who wishes to be a member of the Milam County Sportsman Club and help carry on this good work is cordially invited to join.

Why the swing to FORD's Six ?

Only a six cylinder engine that has every modern engine development can offer so many advantages to all your driving. And that's why, every day, more and more Six buyers are joining the swing to America's most modern Six... the NEW 115-h.p. OVERHEAD-VALVE I-block SIX!

Deep-block design keeps it smooth and quiet. This deep, I-shaped block, like an "I" beam used in construction, gives you a more rigid engine. This means greater quiet and freedom from vibration which in turn adds to engine life. Another smooth-operation feature is a crankshaft with four bearings.

Go-power through the whole range of driving speeds. Ford's I-block Six gives you extra "get-going" power at high speeds—as well as at low and average speeds. This gets you past trucks in a hurry; gives you safety fast. One reason for this is the four-port intake manifold for efficient gas-feeding to all cylinders.

More "Go" per gallon with low-friction design... Automatic Power Pilot. Ford's low-friction design means an extra-short piston stroke—so piston travel is greatly reduced for less gas-wasting friction than in conventional engines. Automatic Power Pilot squeezes more high-compression "Go" from less gas.

AND YOU GET ALL THE FEATURES THAT MAKE A FINE CAR FINE!

For the first time ever in a low-priced car, Ford offers you new Ball-Joint Front Suspension for a smoother ride without gas-eating extra weight. Ford also brings you new styling. Interiors are of the most modern design with the last word in upholstery and trim. Exteriors are more beautiful than ever... with many colors to choose from. And Ford also offers five fine-car driver aids as optional "extras": Fordomatic Drive, Master-Guide Power Steering, Swift Sure Power Brakes, 4-Way Power Front Seat, Power-Lift Windows.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

By Herman Yezak

March 29 - April 2. It took two days to pass the three-point tax plan in the House. The bill was passed substantially as introduced with the exception that a provision was added to place an occupation tax on companies selling blue stamps and other similar stamps to merchants that give away stamps for prizes. Other amendments were offered to alter the bill but there were enough votes to vote down all proposed changes objected by the sponsors of the bill.

During the third week of the special session the House devoted most of its time to the passage of two tax bills including the three-point tax plan and the Hinson Natural gas tax bill which is considered a "test" gas tax plan. The Hinson bill attempts to place a new type of tax on gas based on cubic feet for purpose of eventually determining its constitutionality if tested in the courts. Its purposes to raise less than two million dollars annually until its constitutionality is determined and afterwards it would take in about fifteen million dollars annually and replace the proposed 9.06 percent tax on market value of gas as passed in the three-point tax plan. Should the Hinson plan prove constitutional the gas tax rate would drop to its present figure of 5.72 percent of market value.

The House Appropriations Committee passed out two out of the four teacher pay raises bills that were introduced. The committee gave approval to the Governor's plan as proposed by the Governor's twenty-five member committee and the Murphy plan which proposes a teacher pay raise on merit with numerous pay scales and possibilities.

The House will consider the pay raise bills during the fourth week of the special session. The House committee merged all Governor's expenditure proposals in one bill which, besides teacher salaries, includes the ten dollar per month increase for state employees and the building program of nearly eleven million dollars.

The compromise teacher salary bill which the Senate passed early in the session is the measure drafted by a twenty-five member Governor's committee and endorsed by the Texas State Teachers Association.

The measure provides a $402 annual salary increase and gives local school districts an $100 credit for each teaching unit to apply as a deduction from local tax assignment.

Local tax assignment is set at 20 percent and the state part at 80 percent which eliminates the $45,000,000 local contribution as set up in the Gilmer-Akin Laws. This is the first big effort to make a major change in the Gilmer-Akin schools laws which were enacted five years ago. It appears that the same groups that were so eager to insert the ceiling of forty-five million dollars are the same groups that are anxious to remove the ceiling this time.

The Murphy plan has its origin from a metropolitan area and it appears that under such a plan rich school districts would be made richer and poor districts poorer. The big feature in the Murphy plan is a merit teacher pay increase plan with local control and it has other features likely causing uncertainties and ambiguities. It was reported that the Murphy plan has the support of the Texas Manufacturers Association.

The vice-president of the Texas Farm Bureau appeared at the committee hearing on the teacher pay bills and endorsed a pay raise for teachers without any change in the local tax structure for its support.

A resolution was passed by the House endorsing the Bricker amendment and requesting Congress to give the measure favorable consideration.

A resolution was offered extending an invitation to Senator Joe McCarthy to speak in the Texas House of Representatives. After considerable debate and amendments the resolution was delayed on technicalities in the House Rules.

Farmers, Ranchers To Receive Benefit Of New F.B. Dividends

John A. Smith, president of the Milam County Farm Bureau, announced that the Southern Farm Casualty Insurance Company began returning 50 percent of the premiums paid on automobile casualty insurance policies as dividends effective April 1, 1954.

The first individuals in Milam County to receive the benefit of the new 50 per cent dividends are Herbert Colburn of Cameron, John Janke of Davilla, Steve B. Chernosky of Ben Arnold, and Vernon Guthrie of Thorndale.

Smith states that there will be about 700 farmers and ranchers in this county that will draw the new dividends as policies come up for renewal. The automobile dividend, as declared by the Company, amounts to $1,700,000 to Texas Farm Bureau members of this county.

The Farm Bureau organization also operates capital stock legal reserve life and fire insurance companies, which are currently paying very good dividends to their policyholders. The Farm Bureau Companies write Fire, Life, Farmer's Comprehensive Personal Liability, Equipment Floater, Polio and Automobile insurance.

Secret Speaks Out Against Merit Plan For Pay Raises

Senator Jarrard Secret of Temple spoke out against the merit plan for teacher pay raises this week in his regular televised legislative report over KCEN-TV. "The principle of merit pay increases is good and is used by many businesses. And I further recognize the fact that some teachers do a better job than others. But, I am afraid that if Boards of Education are to be called upon each year to give teachers raises in varying amounts of withhold such raises, solely in their discretion, that a confused and possibly intolerable situation could result, said Secret. He pointed out several ways in which merit could now be recognized and said, "My theory is that if the minimum scale is made sufficiently high, the profession will gradually attract and hold better teachers."

Secret also predicted that the program for which the legislation was called would be adopted during the Special Session. He predicts that the tax bill would be enacted substantially in the form passed by the House of Representatives, but added that the production tax on natural gas would probably be graduated downward so that it would level off at 7.06 per cent of its value at the well.

The Temple Senator will continue his weekly reports over KCEN-TV each Saturday evening at 6:15 for the remainder of the Special Session.

4. High School Typing: About fifteen students will demonstrate typing to music as practiced in class to achieve through the rhythm, speed and accuracy in typing.

5. Eighth Grade Arithmetic: Thirty eighth grade students will participate in a flash card drill.

Rosebud took their second game from the Cameron Yoemen in the Lawless Green diamond Tuesday afternoon with a final score of 6 to 3.

Local boys chalked up 9 hits, with only three errors and the Panthers had 12 hits and three errors during the game.

Joe Michalka took over the pitching for the Yoemen from Baggerly in the third inning, allowing only one run during the remainder of the game. Jimmy Rettig caught the entire game.

David Krause and Lloyd Wasserman formed the Panther battery.

Control of Cotton Insects To Be Discussed April 12

A community adult educational meeting on the Control of Cotton insects will be held Monday night, April 12, at 7:45 p.m. under the sponsorship of C. Tittsworth, vocational agricultural teacher of Buckshots.

J. D. Moore, county agent, will show slide films from A & M College pertinent to this subject. Cotton allotments this year should be reason enough for the study of insect control, thus acquiring all lint per acre possible for increasing farm profit. The pink boll worm, it was stressed, is a real threat to our cotton industry.

All of the latest insect control measures will be discussed and Tittsworth invites all interested farmers who produces cotton to attend. They are also invited to bring their families and neighbors.

Carol Jean Franz Becomes Bride Of John David Moseley April 3

Before an altar banked with white Dutch Iris, stock, gladioli and greenery, flanked on either side by large floor baskets of the same flowers tied with white satin streamers, Miss Carol Jean Franz and John David Moseley were united in marriage at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, April 3, at the First Methodist Church at Rosebud. The pastor, Dr. Williams, was the celebrant, using a beautiful double ring ceremony.

Preceding the wedding party's entrance, Miss Shirley Trasher of Rosebud, a life long friend of the bride, played selections of nuptial music on the organ.

The bride, entering on the arm of her father, Mr. Urvin Franz, wore a pure white waltz-length dress of Italian silk linen, made with a scoop neckline edged in pale blue satin with insets of alencon lace embroidered with seed pearls. She wore a short veil of tulle caught to a small white scalloped lace and ribbon coronet hat. A cascade bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and stephanotis centered by a single white rose was carried on a beautiful white Bible.

Attending the bride was Miss Connie Cochran of Austin, who wore an afternoon dress of pink taffeta. She carried a hand spray

TRADE IN CAMERON

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Easy Does It—Again!

Ladies Aid Society had their rummage sale the other night—and as soon as the doors opened, "Easy" Roberts was inside.

Without a word, he headed straight for the coat counter, picked out a shabby old tweed jacket, and paid for it. "Easy" told me a little later that buying his jacket back was getting to be a regular habit.

"That's been my favorite smoking jacket for years," he said. "And my wife talks me into giving it away regularly. Then I get to thinking how much I like it and hurry down to buy that jacket back. This is the third time I've done it!"

From where I sit, everyone's entitled to his own likes—whether it's a sports jacket, a baseball team, or the beverage he likes for dinner. For example, the wife likes coffee along with Saturday night spaghetti while I like a glass of beer. We never try to "sell" each other on our personal preferences.
